ARKANSAS
UNIFORM CRIME
REPORTING PROGRAM

Introduction

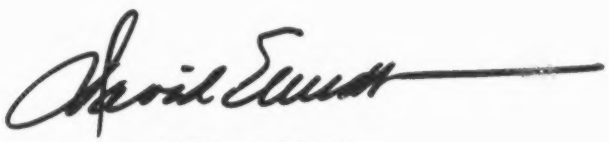
Crime in Arkansas is an annual report prepared by the Arkansas Crime Information Center (ACIC). It provides an overview of crime based on statistics submitted by law enforcement agencies as a part of the Arkansas Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Program.

While this document is a comprehensive report on crime, it must be understood that it includes only the number of arrests and incidents known and reported by law enforcement agencies. It does not include any data relating to prosecution, adjudication or corrections.

In addition, this report does not attempt to draw conclusions about the cause of crime. UCR data reflect the number of criminal events in specific geographical areas, rather than to the effectiveness or activities of agencies. It should not be used to evaluate or directly compare one agency to another.

In 1984, for the second consecutive year, the number of serious crimes reported in Arkansas has decreased, down 3.3 percent from 1983. This is encouraging news for all citizens in our state. But, we have a long way to go, since we still had 79,049 serious crimes reported in 1984.

A high priority must always be placed on fighting crime, and on the protection of the lives and property of citizens. We must never become so apathetic toward the crime problem that we adopt an attitude of simply accepting it. We must combat crime by staying aware of the problem, doing everything we can as individuals and as a society to combat it. These statistics are intended as a tool to aid this endeavor.



David Eberdt, Director

Background

The development of a nationwide Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) program began more than 50 years ago. In 1930, crime counts were first requested from local police departments, with the FBI named by Congress to collect these statistics. All reports came from information that law enforcement agencies should routinely compile for their own efficient administration. The underlying philosophy and focus is and always has been oriented toward law enforcement statistics for use by law enforcement agencies. The unique nature of the program also makes the data valuable for use by other govermental officials and the public.

In an effort to provide as complete a picture of crime as possible on a national level, the decision was made to collect data on certain offenses that become known to police. An overview of crime can then be obtained through examination of seven offenses which were selected because of their seriousness, frequency of occurrence, and likelihood of being reported to police. These offenses, which now comprise the Crime Index, are murder and non-negligent manslaughter, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny-theft, and motor vehicle theft. By congressional mandate, arson was added as the eighth index offense in late 1978.

To provide nationwide uniformity in the reporting of data, a set of standard definitions for specific criminal acts was devised. This standardization was necessary to overcome the variation in definitions from state to state. Reporting agencies are required to submit their data in accordance with the UCR definition of offenses. Because of the variance in punishment for the same offenses in different states, there is no possibility in a program such as this to distinguish between felony or misdemeanor crimes.

In recent years, the FBI has actively assisted individual states in the development of state-operated UCR programs compatible with the national system. These state programs have increased the participation of law enforcement agencies due to mandatory reporting requirements. State programs also provide direct and frequent contact with local agencies, assuring more completeness and quality of information provided by them. With the development of a state UCR program, data is more readily available for use by the state, and the FBI ceases collection of data directly from individual law enforcement agencies within the state. Instead, compiled information from all reporting agencies is forwarded to the national program by the state program.

On January 1, 1974 the Arkansas Crime Information Center initially began the collection of monthly UCR data in our state. The following year, Act 742 of 1975 was approved, which included a section making the reporting of UCR data to ACIC mandatory for law enforcement agencies.

Purposes of the Arkansas UCR Program

Information derived from the UCR Program will assist in determining the overall scope of reported crime in Arkansas and should be an important aid in making effective management studies and decisions.

While many purposes and objectives can be stated, the primary goals are:

1. To collect, verify, and analyze summary information on crime reported by law enforcement agencies in Arkansas.

2. To provide data back to law enforcement administrators for use in operational planning and assessments.

3. To give an overview of crime, its magnitude and trends, and to provide this information to the Governor, the Legislature, and to the general public.

4. To develop base data and statistics for use in improving the efficiency, effectiveness and performance of the Arkansas criminal justice system.

5. To provide the FBI with complete UCR data to be included in the national crime reports.

Reporting Procedures

The Arkansas UCR program uses a summary reporting procedure. Contributing law enforcement agencies are reponsible for compiling their own crime figures and submitting them once a month to ACIC. Agencies are furnished training in scoring and classifying offenses, in use of tally books, and in procedures for completing the reporting forms.

A sound recordkeeping system is necessary for the effective operation of any law enforcement agency. This record system is a basis for crime reporting by an agency. Upon request, ACIC will make internal records, forms and technical assistance available to any agency.

On a monthly basis, law enforcement agencies report the number of offenses that become known to them during the month. This count is taken from a record of all complaints received by the agency from victims, other sources or as discovered by officers. Whenever complaints of crime are determined through investigation to be unfounded or false, they are eliminated from the actual count. The number of "actual offenses known" are reported to ACIC without regard to whether anyone is arrested for the crime, stolen property recovered, or any other restrictive consideration. Law enforcement agencies report monthly the total number of these crimes which they clear either by arrest or exceptional means. A separate count of crimes cleared which involve only persons under the age of 18 is shown. To supplement the offense information, data such as the value of property stolen and recovered, circumstances surrounding homicides, additional information concerning assaults on police officers and other pertinent information is collected.

In addition, monthly reports for all persons arrested on all criminal offenses are collected. These reports provide age, sex and race information on each person arrested with the adult and juvenile arrests separate.

Quality Control Procedures

In the collection of crime statistics, high priority is placed on obtaining valid and uniform data. With the receipt of monthly reports from approximately 200 jurisdictions, prepared on a voluntary basis, the problems of attaining validity and uniformity are significant.

Incoming report forms are examined and verified for accuracy and for reasonableness. The process includes numerous checks and cross-checks of the information. A majority of errors are corrected by telephone contact with the reporting agency. If this is not possible, the errors are adjusted through personal contacts. ACIC Agents are engaged in a constant educational effort and provide a vital link between the ACIC UCR program and the contributor.

Classification of Offenses

In UCR, offenses are divided into two major classifications, designated as Part 1 and Part 2 offenses. Somewhat different information is collected for each. Offenses are classified in accordance with UCR definitions, which do not necessarily coincide with Arkansas statutory definitions.

The number of offenses known by law enforcement agencies are reported for Part 1 crimes, whether or not arrests have been made. These Part 1 offenses, excluding negligent manslaughter and non-aggravated assault, are used to calculate the Crime Index and Crime Rate. Details of the Part 1 offenses are included in Section 3 of this report.

All other crimes classified as Part 2 offenses, on which arrests have been made, are included in Section 6 of this report.

Arkansas Crime Index

The Crime Index is used as a basic measurement of crime. It is the figure which is often publicized by the news media and which is widely used to assess the criminality of a given location. Many of the figures presented in this report indicate the volume, fluctuations and distribution of crime in Arkansas on the basis of this Crime Index. The eight offenses making up the Crime Index are:

1. Murder
2. Forcible Rape
3. Robbery
4. Aggravated Assault
5. Burglary
6. Theft
7. Motor Vehicle Theft
8. Arson

These crimes were selected for use as an index due to their serious nature, their frequency of occurrence and the reliability of reporting from citizens to law enforcement agencies. The Crime Index is the total number of index crimes that come to the attention of law enforcement.

In reviewing crime index figures, the reader should keep in mind that there is currently no way of determining the total number of actual crimes committed. The Crime Index has been established to measure only the instances of crime which come to the attention of law enforcement agencies.

Violent crime refers to events such as murder, rape, and assault that may result in injury to a person. Robbery is also considered a violent crime because it involves the use or threat of force against a person.

Property crimes are unlawful acts with the intent of gaining property, but do not involve the use or threat of force against an individual. Larceny, burglary, motor vehicle theft, and arson are examples of property crimes.

The Crime Rate is one of the most quoted crime statistics and is based on the number of Index Crime per 100,000 population.

In UCR, an offense is considered to be cleared (solved) when at least one offender is arrested. The arrest of one person can clear several crimes, or several persons may be arrested in the process of clearing one crime. Offenses may also be cleared by exceptional means when the offender commits suicide; makes a dying declaration; confesses while in custody or serving time for another crime; is prosecuted in another jurisdiction for the same offense; when the victim refuses to prosecute or another jurisdiction refuses to extradite. When examining clearance data, keep in mind that not all crimes are cleared within the calendar year in which the offense occurs. Also note that the recovery of property stolen with regard to a specific offense does not, by itself, constitute a clearance for UCR purposes.

Special Considerations

In looking at current crime reporting practices, an important question to be considered is how much crime is being reported. Law enforcement agencies are only capable of reporting crimes known to them. In some instances, citizens do not report crimes directly to these agencies, but may report them to the prosecuting authorities. A considerable volume of crime is not reported to law enforcement agencies because the victims may consider the offenses against them to be of very little consequence; they believe there is nothing the police can do about them; they fear retaliation from offenders; or have shared willingly in such offenses as illegal sex acts, gambling, or drug usage. Consequently, information concerning some offenses is never entered in the present statistical reporting system.

Set forth below are some additional conditions which will, by type and volume, affect the crime that occurs from place to place. These same conditions will also affect the amount of crime actually reported.

- Density and size of the population areas.
- Composition of the population with reference particularly to age, sex, and race.
- Economic status and mores of the population.
- Relative stability of population including commuters, seasonal, and other transient types.
- Climate, including seasonal weather conditions.
- Educational, recreational, and religious characteristics.
- Effective strength of the police force.
- Standards governing appointment to the police force.
- Policies of the prosecuting officials and the courts.
- Attitude of the public towards law and enforcement problems.

Data Comparisons and Limitations of UCR

While UCR is the best source of crime statistics available at the present time, it has been subject to much criticism during its history. Some of these criticisms may be valid. However, the criticism is softened when it is remembered that the program was developed to furnish information for use primarily by law enforcement agencies.

The obvious tendency with a publication of this kind is to make comparisons of data between jurisdictions, whether they be between agencies, or counties, or regions. Caution should be exercised in this regard. Comparisons may not be appropriate because of the great variety of factors which affect the extent and fluctuation of crime and which are not taken into consideration in either raw data or crime rates. All crimes are considered "equal" in computing crime rates. One larceny affects a crime rate the same as one murder.

The Uniform Crime Reporting program is designated to measure offenses reported and persons arrested. Difficulty will arise if this distinction is not kept uppermost in mind. Crime relates to events, but arrest relates to persons, and this is not a one-to-one correspondence. Offense/incident data are only collected for Part 1 offenses. The number of arrests according to age, sex, and race is the only information submitted for Part 2 offenses. There is an obvious information gap here. Again, while UCR is the best information available, no claim is made that they represent "all crime".

Information Feedback

A particularly important function of the Arkansas UCR program is information "feedback" to contributors. After submitting their monthly reports to ACIC, participating law enforcement agencies can be furnished compiled and analyzed data upon request. There are also quarterly summaries published showing statewide crime trends and preliminary crime totals. An annual "Crime in Arkansas" is published, along with a supplementary annual report on "Rape in Arkansas".

Published reports are distributed to the Governor, the Legislature, contributing law enforcement agencies, the news media, and to any other interested individuals and groups.

Any statistical information not contained in published reports may be released to any interested party with the consent of the agency whose statistics are requested.

Summary

The information collected for this report portrays the most accurate and realistic assessment available on the crime situation in Arkansas. However, individuals using these tabulations are again cautioned against drawing conclusions by making direct comparisons between agencies. Numerous factors, as previously listed in this report, affect the amount and type of crime from place to place. More valid use can be made of these figures by determining deviations from state averages or through comparisons with averages for similar populations groups.

It is important to remember that crime is a social problem and, therefore, a concern of the entire community. The efforts of law enforcement are limited to factors within its control.

All Other Offenses - All violations of state or local laws not specifically covered in the Part II offenses, except traffic.

Arrest Rate - The number of arrests reported for each unit of population (per 100,000 in this publication). The arrest rate is computed by dividing the number of arrests in a particular category by the population and multiplying that answer by 100,000.

Arson - Any willful or malicious burning or attempting to burn, with or without attempt to defraud.

Burglary - The unlawful entry of a structure to commit a felony or theft.

Clearance by Exceptional Means - An offense in which some element beyond law enforcement control prevents placing of formal charges against the offender, but the police have: (1) definitely established the identity of the offender, (2) enough information to support arrest, charge, and turn over to the court for prosecution, and (3) knowledge of the location of the offender so that he could be taken into custody.

Clearance Rate - The percentage of offenses cleared by arrest. This is computed by dividing the number of clearances in a particular offense category by the number of offenses reported in that category.

Crime Factor - Conditions which affect the amount and type of crime that occurs in a geographical location.

Crime Index - The total of eight major offenses chosen because of their seriousness and frequency with which they occur. (Murder, Rape, Robbery, Aggravated Assault, Burglary, Theft, Motor Vehicle Theft, and Arson)

In UCR: (1) police report offenses which occur within their city, (2) county and state report offenses which take place in the county, (3) agencies report only those arrests made for offenses committed within their jurisdiction, and (4) the recovery of property is reported only by the jurisdiction from which it was stolen.

Juvenile - For UCR purposes a juvenile is defined as a person under 18 years of age. (Arkansas Statutes define a juvenile the same as UCR)

SECTION 3

STATEWIDE CRIME INDEX DATA

MURDER

Murder is defined in Uniform Crime Reporting as the willful killing of another. The classification, as in all of the other Crime Index offenses, is based solely on police investigation as opposed to the determination of a court, medical examiner, coroner, jury, or other judicial body.

Deaths caused by negligence, suicide, accident, or justifiable homicide are not included in the count for this offense classification. Attempts to kill or assaults to kill are counted as aggravated assaults and not as murder.

Murder in 1984

In 1984 there were 175 murders in Arkansas with four additional justifiable homicides. This is a 1.1% decrease in actual murders and a 2.6% decrease in the rate per 100,000 since 1983. For the fourth consecutive year there has been a decline in murder.

Murder accounted for 0.2% of the total Crime Index and 2.3% of the Violent Crime Index. The five largest law enforcement jurisdictions in the state (representing populations of more than 50,000 each) accounted for 33% of all murders.
